Board Public Access & Participation

How the public may attend, participate in, and communicate with the Board

The Board of Directors is Nolan CAD’s governing body. Detailed Board duties are listed separately in “Board Duties & Responsibilities.” This page focuses on public access to Board meetings and communication with the Board.

Public Comment at Board Meetings

The Board provides the public a reasonable opportunity to appear before the Board and speak on matters within the Board’s jurisdiction. Board meeting agendas identify the opportunity for public comment consistent with applicable law and Board procedures.

- A person wishing to speak may be asked to sign in and identify the subject to be discussed so the meeting can be conducted in an orderly manner.
- The presiding officer may apply reasonable and consistent time or procedural limits.
- Public comments must concern matters within the Board’s authority. Public comment cannot be used to change an individual appraisal or overturn an ARB determination.

Language Assistance and Accessibility

A person who needs language, sign-language, communication, mobility, or other reasonable assistance to attend or participate in a Board meeting should contact Nolan CAD as early as possible before the meeting so appropriate arrangements can be considered.

Open Meetings and Meeting Notices

Board meetings and deliberations are conducted in accordance with the Texas Open Meetings Act and other applicable law. Meeting notices and agendas are posted as required by law.

Complaints or Concerns

Written concerns about matters within the Board’s jurisdiction may be directed to Nolan CAD for Board review as appropriate. A complaint about ARB policies, procedures, access, or official conduct is different from an appeal of an ARB decision. The Board cannot reconsider the merits of a protest or change an individual appraisal through the complaint process.

For filing details, required information, and complaint handling, see Nolan CAD’s separate “Complaint Procedures” document.
